SENTRY FIRED FIRST SHOT AT LANGDON, IS FINDING OF JAPANESE

Question Of Justification For Killing Of American Naval Officer Is Under Investigation By Authorities, Is Report Made By Tokio

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, January 25.—Replying to an interpellation in the Lower House, regarding the shooting affair at Vladivostok, the Minister of War, Baron Tanaka, announced that the matter was still under investigation.

The investigation so far made it appear probable that the sentry had fired first, but the only question as yet undecided was the degree of justification for his doing so. The unusual lateness of the American's appearance on the streets had doubtless increased the possibility of misunderstanding.

The question was not an international one. The American local authorities were most confident in the Japanese spirit of fairness and awaited the result of the investigation with patience and satisfaction.

Japan, he declared, was justified in policing Vladivostok, having been entrusted with that most important mission by the Consular body.

Chinese Flour Is Under Criticism

(Reuter's Service)

London, Jan. 25.—The Daily Express gives prominence to what it describes as the "peril of Chinese flour." It quotes the statement of a doctor that many of his patients are suffering from gastro-enteritis and dermatitis, due to Chinese flour.

Referring to the statement of the Parliamentary Secretary of the Ministry of Food in the House of Commons on January 8 to the effect that the Government was satisfied as to the quality of the wheat from China, the paper says that Parliament was first off by a denial of the actual facts," and that "strong complaints have been made that the flour abounded in weevils and maggots, and 30,000 bags have been condemned as unfit for human consumption, and disposed of to textile manufacturers.

U.S. Flag Wig-Wags Jap Into Court!

Baston, Dec. 8.—The display for sale of a toy dog with a miniature American flag attached to its tail brought S. Ishikawa into the Municipal Court today. Mrs. Ralph Kirtland, President of the Women's Civic League of Malden, and a member of the Daughters of the Revolution, complained that it was shown at Ishikawa's novelty shop in the Back Bay.

The merchant admitted the fact, said the toy was one of a lot imported several years ago from Japan, and pleaded that there was no intention to show disrespect for the Stars and Stripes. He was fined $10, with an admonition to take from his stock any other offending articles.

German Smelters Show Big Increase In Profits

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, Jan. 25.—The French press points out that the Mines and Smelters Corporation of Gelsenkirchen in Westphalia, one of the most important of German industrial enterprises, has just published its provisional balance-sheet for the first nine months of 1920.

As compared with gross profits for 1917, 1918 and 1919 of respectively fifty-three, thirty-two and thirty-six million marks, those for the first three-quarters of the past year reached the total of forty-eight million marks, indicating a total profit for the year of about sixty-four million marks.

COAL STOCKS GROWING

London, Jan. 25.—Reports read at the Congress of the Miners' International Federation, held in London today, showed that trade depression was universal, and that short time was being worked and stocks of coal were accumulating in most countries.

WORKERS CALLED ON

The Congress unanimously adopted a resolution introduced by the French and Belgian organisations, and supported by the German organisation, calling on the workers to redouble their activities in favor of the nationalisation of mines.

A further resolution was carried, noting the statement of the German delegates that stocks of 900,000 tons of coal in the Ruhr district and 300,000 tons in Upper Silesia had at present accumulated, and could be distributed to inland places in compliance with the Spa Agreement if transport were available; also noting that there were accumulations of coal in most mining countries, and urging that such anomalies should not be allowed to development, and should be remedied by the improvement of transport and the stabilisation of exchange.

The Congress then concluded.

Paris, Jan. 25.—The International Miners' Conference in London was presided over by Mr. Robert Smillie, and France was represented by MM. Quentin and Bartuel.

TIN WORKS REOPEN

(Reuter's Service)

London, Jan. 25.—The succession of announcements of works closing down or working short time is pleasantly broken by the information that some Welsh tinplate works are reopening, while the lace factories in Ayrshire, which have been on short time for six months, have now resumed, full running.

Mr. Houlder, presiding at the annual meeting of the Houlder Line, said he believed that the present depression had been overcome, and that we might expect some little rebound, which would enable business to be resumed and developed with a moderate margin of profit.

IRISH ARMY IS BEING ROUTED SAYS GENERAL

Sir Edward Stickland, In Interview Defends His Policy Of Reprisals

PROTECT THE INNOCENT

Military Leader Declares That Harsh Methods Are Only Solution

(U. S. Naval Radio through Reuter)

London, January 25.—General Sir Edward Strickland interviewed at Cork, defended the official reprisals. He admitted that they were deplorable, and were disliked by the soldiers, but the effect was salutary. He said that houses had only been destroyed when the occupants were known to sympathise with the organisers or ambushes, or when they refused to give information. He believed that reprisals strengthened the hands of the people who were unwilling to participate in, but were helpless to prevent, ambushes.

ARMY BREAKING UP

He expressed the opinion that the Irish Republican Army would soon be broken up, its communications smashed and local bodies dealt with in detail. In evidence of this, he pointed out that nothing had been accomplished in the recent attacks on barracks. The assailants always were repulsed with ease. He concluded with the assertion that the courts-martial were absolutely fair, and announced that a special corps of trained court-martial officers was being established.

RUMORS OF COUP

New York, January 24.—According to a Paris despatch, the unusual precautions taken to protect Mr. Lloyd George, together with reports received in Paris, have given rise to rumors that a Sinn Fein coup had been planned.

London, January 25.—A party of police and military were ambushed at New Birmingham, Tipperary. The attackers were dispersed. The military casualties were two killed and six wounded.

Sir James Craig, M.P., will probably be invited to accept the Leadership.

Philadelphia, Jan. 25.—The actual method of "President" de Valera's return from America to England is probably explained by a story in the newspapers, which declares that the captain of a cargo-boat who has just returned from England has identified de Valera's photo as that of a stoker on the last voyage to England, who deserted on December 10, while the ship was in harbor in London.

America Considers Dropping Naval Ship Projects Six Months

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, January 25.—The Senate has adopted a resolution introduced by Senator Borah, asking the Senate Naval Committee for information as to whether it would be advisable and feasible to suspend American naval ship-building for six months.

London, Jan. 25.—Lloyd's Register has issued its annual summary of the world's merchantile shipbuilding. It includes only vessels of over a hundred tons, and shows that the world's production has fallen sharply from 7,144,000 tons in 1919, to 5,861,000 in 1920.

The latter figure, however, is still an increase of two and a half millions over 1913, which was the prewar record.

The report discloses remarkable strides made by Japan, whose output of 456,642 tons nearly equalled her whole output for the ten years before the war.

The countries with the largest outputs were the United States, Japan, Holland and Canada, with an aggregate of 3,275,595 tons, comprising 86 percent of the total output abroad. The total tonnage launched in the Dominions during 1920 was 203,644, or 155,000 less than in 1919.

New Caterpillar Gun Mount Demonstrated

OFFICERS of the United States Army Ordnance Department watching a demonstration of a new type caterpillar self-propelled mount for a 155 mm. rifle in Hoboken, N. J. The mount, designed by Mr. Walter Christy, has many new features and improvements over the type now in use. One important feature is the removable caterpillar belt. On good roads this belt may be removed and the mount run like an automobile, greatly increasing its speed. The photo shows the mount after climbing an incline of forty-five degrees.

Leprosy Cure Seen As Early Discovery By Calcutta Expert

(Reuter's Service)

London, January 25.—Lieut.-Colonel Sir Leonard Rogers, Professor of Pathology at the Medical College, Calcutta, has returned from Calcutta after 27 years in the Indian Medical Service. It is reported that he has discovered a system of treatment for destroying leprosy bacilli in the tissues of the human body. He states that he has got nearer to this than any other British scientist.

In the course of an interview, Sir Leonard Rogers gave instances of the results of his system. One leper, he said, had recovered his sight. Another had regained the sense of touch, while another who could not walk 300 yards, was now able to walk ten miles.

He declared that he had followed up the experiments of Dr. Heiser of the Philippine Islands, the American authority on tropical diseases, who injected chaulmoogra oil. Sir Leonard had subsequently obtained a soluble sodium salt of the unsaturated fatty acids which form the bulk of this oil, and had injected it with the result that reactions occurred which destroyed leprosy bacilli. He concluded that it was not yet possible to say that he had found a permanent cure, but there were good grounds for hoping that a real cure would be obtained.

FUNDS ARE NEEDED

Manila, Jan. 7.—Should the legislature set aside sufficient funds for the application of the new leprosy treatment to all lepers now in Culion and other parts of the Islands, members of the committee leprosy investigation expect that in due time about 2,000 of the 5,000 lepers now segregated would be set free cured.

In India Dr. Rogers reports 65 percent of the cases he was treating, and in Hawaii the latest reports on hand show 37 percent of the cases treated since October, 1918, have been paroled.

In San Lazaro Hospital, Manila, all the treatment used showed some degree of beneficial effect, the highest percentage of improvement resulted from the injections of sodium gynocradate A. which after four months of use, 86 percent of the patients treated with it showed improvement, in some of them, so remarkable that unless they were thoroughly examined they could not be distinguished from ordinary healthy persons, the committee declares.

In the Philippines the treatment would be attended by more favorable circumstances than in other places say, in India, on account of the constant supervision of the lepers incident to the segregation which is not done in India and on account of the greater proportion of early cases to be treated, it was further declared.

TREATMENT OUTLINED

It is expected that the main treatment to be employed will be the sodium gynocardate A. of Rogers as used in India and the ethyl ester of Dean as used in Hawaii. Other drugs such as the sodium morrhuate, collobiards of chaulogra and soya bean oil will be used as auxiliary methods of treatment beside other medicines that the patients will from time to time require such as tonics, purgatives, etc.

The work done in the Philippines by Dr. Mercado who demonstrated that cures can be obtained by intramuscular injection of the oil, served to arouse the interest the world over toward improving the method of the administration of the drug so as to make it more effective and less painful and irritating, which is accomplished by the preparation of Rogers and Dean according to the Committee.

Dr. Mercado, it was explained, cured 58 in two years with his formula, but this period can be shortened now with the modern method.

President Hurls Bomb; Financing Austrian Trade Also Loud Question Confronting Delegates; Austria's Need Of Money Becomes Serious

New York, January 24.—A Paris despatch states that President Wilson's note asking the Allies to guarantee that Russia will not be attacked, has made the Russian situation an important question for consideration by the Supreme Council.

MAY FINANCE AUSTRIA

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, January 25.—The Inter-Allied conference this morning considered proposals regarding the financing of Austrian trade and rehabilitating that country. It was decided that the Austrian question was intimately bound up with the economic condition of Central Europe, and the question was therefore referred to the British, French, Italian and Belgian Ministers of Commerce, for inquiry especially as to how to stabilise exchange.

The military experts have reached a complete accord in the question of disarmament.

The conference also decided that an Allied conference in which Greek and Turkish representatives would participate, would shortly assemble in London with a view to reaching a settlement on Eastern questions.

TO NAME COMMITTEE

Paris, Jan. 26.—The appointment by the Allied Conference of the Committee to investigate the problem presented by the situation of Austria has been hailed with the liveliest satisfaction in London.

It is regarded as likely to lead to the speedy settlement of one of the most pressing problems of the day, since the commissioners have already covered much of the ground in connection with it. It is understood that the Committee has been requested to tackle its task on the broadest possible basis and not to omit Austria's neighbors from its calculations.

As regards Greece, although the delegates unanimously desired to maintain the status quo, it was decided not to recognise Constantine, but to deal only with the Greek Government.

In consequence of several recently changed factors, the Turkish policy of the Conference presents possibility of variation, and it is now practically certain that the Turkish treaty will be modified, one prominent proposal being the transformation of the Greek zone of occupation into a zone of economic interest under the sovereignty of the Sultan, and removal of the Greek troops. The topic of supreme importance—reparations—comes up for discussion today.

ALLIES ARE AGREED

London, Jan. 25.—It is understood that there is no reason to fear any serious divergence between British and French opinion as regards the disarmament question. The British and French military authorities simply do not agree as to the extent of the arms still in possession of Germany in contravention of the treaty.

The principal difference as regards disarmament is that the British representatives believe that this can be effected with equal safety a few weeks later than the French think.

It is believed that the longest period suggested for carrying out all the measures required does not extend beyond June.

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, Jan. 25.—The Journal des Debats declares that on the subject of disarmaments, the atmosphere of the Allied Conference is considered to be harmonious.

JAPANESE POLICE GOING TO WATCH YANKEES CLOSER!

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, Jan 26.—The Foreign Affairs section of the metropolitan Police held an urgent general conference yesterday to consider plans for effectively watching Americans residing and travelling in Japan.

According to a statement from the Secretary of the Foreign Affairs, Police Bureau, there is evidence that some professing tourists and others who are business men are actually engaged in investigating the industrial and military conditions in Japan, in co-operation with Americans long resident in the country.

The attention of the authorities was attracted through the number of American agents arriving in Korea and China, whence they are communicating with each other by wireless. Such messages are easily detected by the Japanese and Chinese secret services, but the operations of the suspected agents in Japan are less obvious.

Churchill Planning His Latest Duties

(Reuter's Services)

London, January 25.—Reuter's learns that Lord Milner and Mr. Winston Churchill today informally discussed preliminary arrangements consequent upon the latter's impending appointment as colonial secretary.

It is understood that Lord Milner intends to go abroad as soon as possible.

The War Office today did not confirm Mr. Churchill's reported visit to Mesopotamia. It says that he is unlikely to formulate his plans until his appointment has received the Royal assent.

Near East Parley To Be In London

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Jan. 25.—The decision to hold the Near East conference in London was reached after taking into consideration recent events in Greece and Turkey, notably the return of King Constantine, the development of the Kemalist movement, the possibility of a union between the Turkish Nationalists and Bolsheviks, and the recent Greek military failures in Asia Minor.

Lord Curzon mooted the idea, and M. Briand eagerly supported it. The conference will probably be held on February 21. In the meanwhile the Constantinople Government will be free to consult with Mustapha Kemal's government, with a view to deciding the composition of the joint Ottoman delegation.

DEPRECIATION OF COPPER COINS HAS SERIOUS EFFECT

Industries Dependent On Receipts In Subsidiary Coinage Suffer,' McColl

Continued issuance of increasing quantities of copper coins, with mounting depreciation, in the past two years is beginning to have a serious effect on industries dependent on receipts in the form of subsidiary coinage, according to a printed analysis of the currency situation that has been made by Mr. Donald McColl, General Manager, Shanghai Electric Construction Company.

According to records that have been kept by the Shanghai Tramways since the early part of 1919 when the new coins began to appear the proportion of such coins in the revenue steadily has increased from 2.7 percent in February, 1919 to 10.84 percent at the end of 1920.

In his analysis Mr. McColl says that as the copper coins in circulation at the end of 1918 are doubtless still in use, the figure of 10.84 may fairly be taken as approximately representing the increase in the one cent copper coins in circulation in Shanghai. Attention is called to an estimate made in 1915 of 22,000,000,000 one cent coins then in circulation in China and it seems apparent that issues in 1919 and 1920 have amounted to at least 12 percent of this figure, equal to 2,640,000,000 copper cents.

Minting profits are given as the motive for the increased circulation of coppers and it is shown that the minting profits on the estimated increase in the number of coppers in the past two years would be more than $3,060,000. At present production costs, it is stated, the copper cent would have to depreciate to 171.5 to the dollar before minting profits would disappear.

The effect of the introduction of all this additional coinage on top of an already superabundant circulation, the statement points out, has been to increase the ratio of depreciation. The steady increase in the depreciation of copper coins in Shanghai in the past two years is shown in a table which shows that while the number of copper cents in a dollar in January, 1919, was 132.12, the number in a dollar in December, 1920, had mounted to 141.36.

Losses of the Shanghai Tramways in converting its revenues in depreciated subsidiary coinage into dollars in the years from 1908 amount to $3,980,776.

It is urged as an immediate requirement that the coining of copper money should be stopped and it is suggested that to insure discontinuance of minting the importation of copper disks for the manufacture of coins would probably have to be prohibited and a suitable tax imposed on the importation of copper not in manufactured forms.

A wharf watchman employed by the New Engineering Works was engulfed by a billow of sympathy the other evening when he saw Woo Sz, one of the wharf coolies, coming out of a godown nursing his midriff solicitiously with both hands. The watchman inquired feelingly if Woo were suffering from stomach-ache and advised an unfailing remedy of his own. Woo said nothing and continued to do so in the face of further condoling remarks by the watchman. Finally the latter grew irritated and shook Woo somewhat roughly by the shoulder. Whereat 30 pounds of iron fell clanging to the street from beneath his jacket.

Woo admitted stealing the hardware and was delivered to the local Bastile for a three-days' stay.

Mischa Weisbrod

Mischa Weisbrod has an interesting and astonishing program for Saturday night's farewell concert in the Town Hall.

Glazounov's Concerto O. K. is a modern, interesting and brilliant violin work, and the Ernst concerto O. K. is, for sheer execution, probably the most exacting in existence. There is much music in the Glazounov that should go far to overcome the plain man's objection to "difficult" music, whilst the rest of the pieces include Chopin's Nocturne No. 8, (arranged) and two pieces specially requested from previous concerts—Bazzini's "Ronde des Lutins" and "Kol Nidrei" (Firden Ko). The former piece created quite a furore at Weisbrod's second concert and the latter is the famous Hebrew melody generally associated with Max Bruch's version. The pianist is again Mr. Harry Ore.

The concert is a further welcome opportunity to hear a great violin genius who is a musical genius as well. All tickets are $2 downstairs. Balcony $1.

Mixed Court Jottings

A farmer carrying a pillow which seemed to bulge unduly in places was stopped and questioned by a Chinese Police Constable on the Peking Road Tuesday. He was reticent about the contents of the pillow case so the policeman ripped it open, and found four packets of white powder which looked like morphia. The farmer protested in the Mixed Court yesterday that the stuff is milk cake and the case was remanded until Friday in order to permit an analysis.

Charging that his ancestral burial ground had been desecrated, some 14 tons of bricks having been taken away and used as material for the building of a house, one Sung Chang-chang appeared as a witness against a foreman named Lieu You-chien in the Mixed Court yesterday. The police stated that their investigation of the case showed that the bricks were hauled away from the burial ground on barrows and that they were sold to the building contractor by the accused. The latter claims that he bought the bricks from a man named Tsang and the case was remanded until tomorrow in order that Tsang may be found.

A shroff formerly employed by the China Garage appeared yesterday on the charge of embezzling collections. Mr. Neubourg, the manager of the Garage, stated that he estimated the total shortage at $5,000, but was unable to state what the peculations of the accused amounted to. An accountant of the company has absconded. The case was remanded, defendant being allowed $500 cash bail.

Two Chinese, described as engineers, were charged yesterday with impersonating detectives and trying to extort Tls. 300 from one Tsang Zu-zung. The case was remanded.

Secrets Of Magic

(By Reginald Kay)

Magic has a peculiar charm which is chiefly due to its "secrets." These "secrets" as generally understood are the tricks and fakes connected with the manipulations or the apparatus employed.

However, in magic there is only one real secret and it is not a mechanical or manipulative device. Its nature, and indeed, its very exsistance is usually unsuspected.

The agencies which control the successful practice of magic are intellectual and not manual.

Magic is not simply a mechanical art. As such it would occupy a very low position, lower than that of the circus juggler and far, far lower than that of the skilled mechanic.

Magic is an exact science and its practice an intellectual pursuit.

Manipulation means no more to the magician than it does to the surgeon, the chemist or the physicist. To the magician the mechanical device is useful but so is the balance to the chemist and the lancet to the surgeon.

Sleights and fakes are simply some of the tools used to produce magical effects.

The true merit of any magical experiment consists in the perfection with which it simulates the accomplishment of things which are impossible.

The fundamental principles of magic are no less capable of systematic analysis than those of any other science.

The secret of magic lies in the creation of mental impressions of supernormal happenings by a misdirection of the senses. The psychology of magic deals entirely with the creation of these particular impressions.

To kill Vermin on sight, or to sprinkle poison around their haunts, will not completely rid them from the premises. MILTON will clear the place thoroughly. MILTON

Do you realise what MILTON really is and does? Just think for a moment! It will and does rid a place of vermin without fail. And yet you can use it, and you ought to use it on your food. Isn't it wonderful?

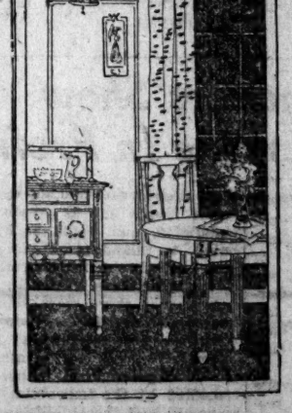
FOOD
A New Idea

You put sauces, relishes, spices, etc., on your food to make it taste better, but do you put anything on it to make it pure and perfectly safe? The idea of putting MILTON on your food is novel, but isn't it sensible?

You can put MILTON on meat, fish, poultry, fruit, vegetables—on anything you eat. MILTON will not add the slightest taste or smell—it only freshens the natural flavour of food—and will completely remove all dangers of impurities, fly-blow, or ptomaine poisoning, and the food will not go bad.

Just add a tablespoonful of MILTON to each pint of cold water. Wash the meats and fish, or soak the vegetables, before cooking. The food tastes better, is safe, and will keep.

The Stately Homes of England



Have you ever wandered through one of those old Elizabethan Manors, of which England is so proud? Did you notice the black, lustrous panelling, doors and stairs? Did it not strike you as curious that the wooden beams in the outhouses had outlasted the stone of which the walls were built? The colour of the wood made you curious to know what stain had been used on it? "Time" imparted that wonderful tone to the wood, and all the base counterfeiters of the craftsmanship of a bygone age have never succeeded in producing an imitation which would deceive a babe. The Wood was Oak, the wood which we suggest you should use for your new floor or panelling.

WE SUPPLY OAK FOR FLOORING, WAINSCOTING, PANELLING, ETC., ETC., KILN-DRIED AND QUALITY GUARANTEED

We give all orders personal attention. After you have placed your order with us, the flooring will be laid and all work carried out under the personal supervision of a foreign expert of the Company. This supervision costs you nothing and we prefer to do this for you.

Insist that all lumber for flooring and panelling for interior work bears the "Three Pines" Trade Mark, and the letters "KD" signifying kiln-dried, thus ensuring its perfect quality, and suitability for the severe climatic conditions of China.

Steamer Anchises In Port; Is First Of Blue Funnel Fleet Of Passenger Boats

Three More Vessels Are Being Built With Purpose Of Providing Monthly Service-Ship Now Here Is Commanded By Capt. James Inkster

Marking the entry of the Blue Funnel Line into the passenger business to the Far East from England the first vessel of a fleet of passenger boats the Blue Funnel Line is to place in operation between England and the Far East is now in port. The vessel is the twin-screw steamer Anchises which is commanded by Captain James Inkster.

Cards of invitation have been issued by Messrs. Butterfield and Swire, agents for the Blue Funnel Line, for a reception that is to be hold aboard the steamer this afternoon when a number of tenders will be prorvided for the guests and will leave the Customs Jetty beginning at 3 o'clock. The Anchises is lying in the stream about four miles down the rivevr and for the past several days has been loading while renovation and painting of the entire vessel has been in progress in preparation for the return voyage to England. The Anchises sails Saturday, having arrived here on Januar. 18 bringing 80 passengers.

WAR TROOP CARRIER

While the war was in progress the Anchises was a troop carrier and was one of the vessels supplied by the British Government to move troops from America to France. More recently the Anchises ran between England and Australia. The vessel was specially fitted for the new service to the Far East.

The Anchises is 510 feet in length over all with beam of 60.4 feet and with registered tonnage 10,000. Her power plant of 5,500 horse power gives the steamer a sea speed of 13½ knots and the voyage from Shanghai to Liverpool takes about 45 days.

Accomodation have been provided aboard the vessel for 179 passengers with single, double and three berth state rooms and every provvision has been made for the comfort and convenience of passengers. The handsomely decorated smoking room is located in the aft portion of the steamer on the promenade deck.

Above the spacious and artistically decorated dining room are the music room, in which is located the ship's library, and a lounge. Each of the cabins is equipped with sky light, electric fans and other electric equipment and is steam heated. The ventilating system insures a supply of fresh air in every nook of the ship at all times.

MODERN EQUIPMENT

The Anchises is equipped with every modern appliance for the swift handling of cargo and the mechanical appliances are particularly designed for the handling of heavy pieces of cargo.

Probably the outstanding feature of the vessel in the matter of giving comfort to passengers is the vast amount of deck space provided. This is larger than usual on the promenade deck, but it is particularly apparent on the boat deck which is reserved for games.

Captain Inkster of the Anchises is one of the veteran skippers of the Blue Funnal Service as he has been in this service for the past twenty years. While the war was in progress he was in the transport service first in the Mediterranean and later took part in transporting Portuguese troops from Lisbon to Brest and after that in transporting American troops from the United States to France.

Three other vesels that are to go into the Blue Funnel passenger service to the Far East are being built and will follow the Anchises. It is planned ultimately to provide a monthly service from England and Shanghai.

DESERT EXPEDITION

Paris, Jan. 25.—A reconnaissance party from Tabeebala, in Algeria, has just accomplished a successful expedition into the desert. Leaving on December 25, it joined forces at a rendezvous previously fixed with a detachment which had come from Morocco.

Aside from the geographical information secured, this success for French colonisation is bound to create a far-reaching impression in the Western Sahara.

Sores from Wrist to Elbow
"Completely Healed"

Our portrait is of Mr. John Kidd, of 17, Mill Lane, Kilmarnock, Scotland, who writes:—"My right arm became covered with sores from wrist to elbow and was useless for over two years. I tried different ointments and so-called cures, but they never did me any good. Then I tried your 'Clarke's Blood Mixture,' and the sores soon began to heal up and power began to come back to my arm, so I persevered with the Mixture, and after having four bottles am glad to say my arm is completely healed up and I have now the full use of it." In a further letter over a twelvemonth later Mr. Kidd writes: "I have had no return of my complaint; my arm is still as sound as a bell and never troubles me in the least."

ASTHMATIC BECAUSE ANAEMIC

"I Owe My Cure To Dr. Williams' Pink Pills"

A number of cases of Asthma, according to the reports of the sufferers, have been cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. In these cases the main cause of the trouble has been a generally run-down condition of the system, and with the restoration of 'tone' to the blood and nerves by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills the Asthma has disappeared.

One such case is that of Miss Eule M. H. Mortier, a young lady school-teacher residing at "Lake Wood," Cinnamon Gardens, Colombo, Ceylon.

"About 8 years ago I was a great sufferer with asthma and was also very anaemic," she said, "I became extremely thin and weak, with a constant tired feeling. My face was pallid; my eyes were sunken in deep dark circles and had a nasty pain behind them.

"So poor was my appetite that it was only a pretence for me to sit at the table at all. I had a hacking cough and a very bad pain in the chest which allowed me to get very little sleep. The asthma caused me difficulty in breathing, particularly at night. Night sweats worried me a great deal and I got into a thoroughly low-spirited condition.

"After trying various medicines without good result I gave Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial on the advice of my father. These brought about a wonderful improvement. I could again enjoy my meals. My spirits rose and I regained lost flesh and colour. And as I continued with the treatment the asthma which had troubled me for three years disappeared altogether. I lost my trouble-some cough, the pain left my chest, my breathing became regular, the night sweats ceased, and I was able once more to enjoy a good night's sleep, awaking in the morning rested and refreshed. I owe my cure to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and recommend them to any sufferers I find."

Of medicine vendors everywhere, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are also obtainable direct from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 96 Szechuen Road, Shanghai, one bottle for $1.50, six for $8, post free.

Cornell Wants Its Football Captain

Dobie Idea Of Leaderless Team On Field Arouses Student Opposition

Cornell will not go through another season without a football captain, if undergraduate sentiment, supported by alumni influence, can prevent it. The failure of the team to elect a captain last Fall, due to Coach Gilmour Dobie's decision that such an election was unnecessary and undesirable, aroused no little comment, and this was revived in an editorial in The Cornell Daily Sun, undergraduate organ, which said among other things:

"It is our belief that certain elements have been injected into the Cornell football situation are not in conformity with Cornell traditions, nor with the best ideas and practices of college sport.

"Football, as well as baseball, rowing or any other sport, is primarily a contest between undergraduates, although indirectly of course it may at the same time be a contest between coaches and systems of coaching. Certainly the coach's connection should end when the team takes the field, or at least during the period it is actually on the field, and the contest, should then be between the teams themselves, under their respective leaders, chosen by themselves. In baseball a great deal of criticism has justly been raised against the coach for directing the game from the bench, and in track the coach is required to remain off the field entirely. We are not implying that Mr. Dobie directs' his play from the bench, but that is the natural conclusion when no permanent captain is elected by the team.

"Mr. Dobie is an excellent coach, but he is entirely unqualified as a captain."

LEWIS IS JEERED AS HE PUNISHES EARL CRADDOCK

Heavyweight Wrestling Champ Retains Title When He Uses Headlock

(Reuter's Services)

New York, January 25.—In a contest for the world's heavyweight wrestling championship held here last night, "Strangler," Lewis defeated Earl Craddock in one hour and 34 minutes, throwing him with a combined headlock and hiplock.

The brutality of the headlock, which is somewhat similar to the old 'strangle-hold,' incensed the spectators, and when Craddock became unconscious, the cry of "Kill the murderer" was raised, and a concerted rush was made toward the ring. The master of ceremonies prevented the crowd from attacking Lewis.

It is announced that Joe Stecher, the former heavyweight champion, who was recently defeated by Lewis in a match for the championship, is suffering from partial paralysis, and will be unable to wrestle for the next twelve months as a result of the headlock applied by Lewis.

Foreigners Defeat Chinese In Hard Basketball Game

Irle and Jackson held Tom Chang and Woo to ten points last night and the Chinese Y. M.C.A. basketball team lost its first game of the season, an All-Star aggregation of foreigners winning handily by a score of 45 to 24, coming strong in the second half when they held the Chinese to seven points. The foreign guards played great basketball.

The year's record crowd was on hand to see the Chinese lose their first game and on their home floor. The first period closed with the foreigners leading 29 to 16 and then the weight began to tell. The ultimate winners scored 17 points in the second period to the Chinese seven. The game was bitterly fought, the Chinese fighting game staying a battle.

The summary:

Foreigners 45.—Gray lf, Haskell rf, McCloy c, Irle lg, Jackson rg.

BUSH WINNER FROM DA SILVA IN SLOW GAME

Goes Into Semi-Finals By Easy Victory, 750-630, In Billiard Tourney

ANOTHER GAME TONIGHT

Stormes And Philipps Play At Engineers Institute; Porter Meets Campos

Two hours and fifty minutes of dull and disappointing billiards at the American Club last night ended in E. D. Bush entering the semi-finals for the amateur championship of Shanghai. Neither Bush nor his opponent, F. P. da Silva, played anywhere near championship form and the match, which was expected to give a line on possible opposition for C. W. Porter, who gets into action tomorrow night, by the way, left the dopesters in the dark. Bush won his match last night by a score of 750 to 630.

The most charitable thing that can be said of the game is that for 250 points it was even. One run of 45, by Bush, was numbered among the "high breaks," the others not being so high. Bush rolled 28 and 24. da Silva made three runs—24, 27 and 28.

Bush had an average of 6.1, da Silva's was 5.6. Time and again the players went to the table, shot and sat down while the big crowd on hand fretted and crabbed. The billiard followers were sadly disappointed; they looked for a better game.

Bush may come through to the final but he must show more stuff than he displayed last night. He has it, though, and may make the winner of the Stormes-Phillips game, scheduled for tonight, travel to beat him to the finals.

Stormes plays Phillips at the Marine Engineers Institute tonight at 9:15 o'clock.

Porter plays Campos at the American Club tomorrow night and should win easily. A big crowd will be on hand to see Porter play.

Children Cry for Fletcher's
CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is particularly a preparation for Infants and Children made agreeable to the taste, acceptable to the stomach and pleasant in its action. It has been in use for over thirty years and has always been one of the most highly esteemed of all cathartic preparations. It has one great advantage over other preparations of its kind in that while it opens the organs readily and completely, it does not have a tendency to produce subsequent constipation so much to be dreaded.

It was only after years of research in the fields of herbs and roots for a combination of purely vegetable matter that would have all the virtues of Castor Oil, without its disagreeable, nauseating properties, especially when used for infants or children, that the formula used in Fletcher's Castoria was found, and which for over 30 years has proven its worth. Try it.

Save the Babies.

Infantry mortality is something frightful. We can hardly realise that of all the children born in ivilised countries, twenty-two per cent., or nearly one quarter die before they reach one year, thirty-seven per cent., or more than one-third, before they are five, and one half before they are fifteen! We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save many of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupefy, retard circulation and lead to congestion, sickness, death. To avoid any possibility of giving your child opiates, or narcotics of any kind, keep Fletcher's Castoria in the house, and Save the Babies.

Year's Report Presented By Charity Organisation Of The King's Daughters

The Charity Organisation Committee of The King's Daughters Society presents a report of work done in the past year with a statement of accounts in the current issue of the Municipal Gazette.

The seven members appointed to serve at the beginning of the year were: Mrs. Macdonald, Chairman, Mrs. Chambers, Mrs. Chatley, Mrs. Garner, Mrs. Grant, Mrs. Henman and Mrs. Porter. Owing to the departure for England of the chairman in March Mrs. Chambers was invited to the chair and Mrs. Hodges was asked to fill the vacancy. Another vadancy caused when Mrs. Garner left on furlough was filled by Miss Ware.

MANY VISITS MADE

Approximately 3,231 persons visited the room in the course of the year and the Secretary made about 405 visits while the Visiting Committee has kept in touch with most of the families who have made application for relief in any way.

"It is no doubt, needless to say," the report goes on, "that a great deal of extra work has been put on the shoulders of the Committee during the past year owing to the increased and continued arrival of refugees of all nationalities from Siberia. They present difficulties possibly unknown in any other port of the world, and for many of them little or nothing can be done beyond grants of clothing.

"During the early part of the year the Committee were glad to be able to render assistance, with the co-operation of The King's Daughters' Society, to the Refugee Relief Committee. Passages and portions of passages were provided, and, or the wherewithal for landing, for many destitute but deserving families. Some were sent to America, India, Port Said, Sumatra, Australia and Canada."

MANY NEW CASES

The total number of new cases dealt with amounts to 340. Positions have been found for 43 while 28 have been assisted in getting away and 64 have been rendered help in other ways. The report gives a number of examples of flagrant fraud practiced by professional beggars.

The report further states that the four flats have been fully occupied throughout 1920, many deserving cases having been refused admission. In the early part of the year efforts were made to obtain other quarters, but without success. Due to the discontinuance of certain subscriptions the maintenance of the Tenement House now wholly devolves upon the funds of The King's Daughters Society.

An important need that has become apparent to the Committee is a convalescent home for children with accommodations for women when necessary and it is reported that, thanks to the liberality of the Race Club, The King's Daughters have been able to set aside $1,000 for this object, to which various sums have been added by subscriptions. The fund now amounts to about $1,600 and the present difficulty is to find a suitable place in the country not too far away for parents and friends to visit.

Farewell Tiffin To Mr. R. Grimshaw

Mr. R. Grimshaw the Vice-President of the Shanghai Football Club gave a farewell tiffin to the Committee of the Shanghai Football Club yesterday at the Shanghai Club. Mr. Grimshaw is leaving for home on Saturday on the Anchises for a well-earned leave.

An interesting thing noticed at this tiffin was, that the nine members at the table represented 101 years membership in the Shanghai Football Club Light of the members present represented over twelve years each in the Club.

Escape Of Little Hsu Is Query For Peers

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, January 25.—The interpellations of the Opposition in the House of Peers today centered on the Chientao question and the escape of Little Hsu.

Replying, the War Minister, Baron Tanaka, denied the report that the War Office had made suggestions to Mr. Obata, Japanese Minister at Peking, regarding Hsu's escape.

The Government had issued instructions forbidding all officials to render assistance. Some aid had been extended after the escape by the military authorities, when Hsu had wanted to journey secretly from Tientsin to Port Arthur. This had been done purely out of sympathy and owing to certain circumstances the disclosure of which now was forbidden by prudence.

COMMANDER RESPONSIBLE

The commander of the Legation Guard must be held responsible and had been accordingly punished. The Legation porters had not recognised Hsu at the time of his escape, owing to the fact that no one coming in or leaving the Legation was challenged excepting Chinese.

SEEK UNDERSTANDING

As regards Chientao, Colonel Mizumachi had been sent to prevent misunderstanding on the part of missionaries and correspondents, with regard to the operations there.

Colonel Mizumachi's communications to the missionaries were purely private, but were interpreted by correspondents as formal and official. The War Office was in no way connected with Colonel Mizumachi's declarations.

There were numbers of Japanese officers in China for the purpose of becoming acquainted with conditions in that country, and they were therefore often accused of interfering with diplomatic questions.

ACCUSATION UNJUSTIFIED

This accusation was unjustified except as regarded Siberia, where the commander had often been compelled to participate in politics, but always with the confidence of the civil authorities.

MISSION IS SENT

Note.—It may be recalled that Colonel Mizumachi was sent to Chientao at the end of November last at the head of a Japanese War Office Mission, "to act," as it was stated at the time, "as liaison officers between the army and the foreign residents of Chientao."

Colonel Mizumachi wrote a letter to Dr. William Foote, head of the Mission at Hungchun in which he defended the activities of the Japanese military and strongly criticised the missionaries for, as he alleged, attempting to stir up rebellion among the Koreans. The letter created a considerable sensation in the Japanese press.

In The U.S. Court For China

United States v. Henry B. Furbush
Cause No. 1244
ORDER
Filed January 26, 1921.
Acting Clerk.

Defendant's counsel has filed a motion that the sentence herein imposed

"be postponed or suspended for a reasonable length of time to allow him and his counsel to prepare and file a motion for a new trial, and, or motion in arrest of judgment, and such other motions, petitions, or applications as said defendant may by advised by counsel, and further to perfect an appeal which said defendant proposes to take."

But the postponement or suspension of sentence is not necessary in order to enable counsel to prepare motions or perfect an appeal. Those proceedings may be taken and invariably are taken in cases like this while the defendant is in custody. For the offense of which the prisoner has been convicted is not bailable and he must be confined somewhere. He has no right to a suspension or postponement of the sentence on any ground embodied in the motion itself and we would be justified in overruling it for that reason.

It appears however from the affidavit filed by defendant's counsel that what he really desires is not so much a suspension of the sentence as the indefinite retention of the prisoner in his present place of confinement; for he says "it is necessary and essential that said defendant be in Shanghai for purposes of conference, instructions and advice as to the course to be taken by him, and further to enable him to raise funds to further carry out his defence, and that the only source open to said defendant for the raising of said funds lies in the help of friends and relatives in America."

Unfortunately the Government provides in Shanghai nothing more than a detention prison and the quarters therein are insufficient for the accomodation of prisoners beyond the minimum period while awaiting trial. Hence the Attorney General of the United States, acting under U.S. Revised Statutes 5546, has designated Bilibid Prison, Manila, as the place of confinement for prisoners under sentence of this Court, and has in fact ordered their incarceration there after their conviction.

The institution thus designated is airy and spacious and the inmates are given congenial occupations all of which tend greatly to promote their health and well being which would be menaced by long continued confinement in the detention prison at Shanghai. The defendant in this case has already been confined in the latter for more than six weeks and it is desirable from every standpoint that he be removed as promptly as possible from the locality of his recent troubles. In view of this and of the instructions of the Attorney General who is given statutory authority in such matters we would not be justified in granting the motion even in the sense in which if is explained by the affidavit.

None of the purposes pointed out in the latter seem to be such as to require the prisoner's presence here. The course to be taken by him and the steps leading to an appeal are matters which his counsel must decide and attend to for him and we are unable to see that the presence of the prisoner is at all so essential as is claimed to be.

As to the "raising of funds" with "the help of friends and relatives in America" we are not sure but that is more for the benefit of counsel than of the prisoner. Certainly the latter, when called in at the hearing of the motion, offered no objection to the transfer and, apparently knew nothing of the objections prepared by his counsel. Moreover it is practically as easy for the prisoner to communicate with his "friends and relatives in America" from Manila as from Shanghai. He might need the services of a Manila lawyer but as the father of one of defendant's local counsel is the head of a leading law firm in Manila, that phase of the matter ought easily to be arranged.

The recital in the affidavit that "the defendant was convicted by the above entitled court, sitting without a jury" seems to be an interpolation for effect. Counsel is well aware that no jury is authorised by the law governing this Court and that the Supreme Court has upheld the law. (In re Ross, 140 U. S. 453, 35 L. ed., 581).

The prisoner has not yet been transferred to the ampler and better place of confinement but he should be and will be at the earliest opportunity.

The "motion to postpone or suspend execution of sentence" is over-ruled.

By the Court,
CHARLES S. LOBINGIER.
Judge.

NOTICE
Butcheries both in the International and French Settlements hereby jointly notify the Public:
Shanghai Butchers usually purchase sheep and calves from the interior of China. In consequence of the recent famine and the high cost of food prices, labour and farm hands in the interior, the raising of cattle and sheep has become difficult, and therefore the supply of meat has decreased in comparision with that of previous years. The price of meat has risen to a much higher price above normal, say, an increase of about 5 to 6 cents per pound.
In spite of the difficulty and high cost of transportation of animals from the interior, and the high price of rice and other foods, Shanghai Butchers sell meat to their customers as cheaply as possible, with the intention of retaining their good connection with customers.
A meeting has been held by all Shanghai Butchers and a resolution passed that an increase or certain prices per pound shall be made on cash sales as well as contracted transactions.
We wish the public to understand that the increase in prices was decided upon only after the most careful consideration and only for necessity's sake.
The following Butchers in the International Settlement will come under the above resolution:
Yue-Shing, The Oxford Butchery, Cosmopolitan, Wei-Zee, Zang-Zeong, Teh-Fong, Yung-Foong, The Hanbury, The Shanghai Butchers, Yun-Kee, Foh-Loong, Zung-Zoong, Ziang-Kee, San-Mow, Yuen-Cheong, Woo-Mei, Yue-Woo, Yao-Tsing-Kee, Zee-Ah-De, Tsen-Kee, Hop-Shing, Dong-Hing, Yah-Foong, North-Hong-Kee, Tsen-Tai, Yung-Tai-Foh, The Asia, San-Tai, and Shing-Mow.
The following Butchers in the French Settlement will come under the above resolution:
Zung-Shing-Kun-Kee, Yung-Sin, Sau-Woo, Zung-Shing-Hop Kee, Yung-Shing-Fau, Hong-Kee, and Dong-Hing.

Exchange Market

Messrs. Maitland, Fearon and Brand write as follows in their exchange circular for week ending Wednesday, January 26.

Exchange: After slight fluctuations and going to 40⅝d. the London price of Silver is back to last week's closing quotation 39¾d. Our rate for T. T. on London has been quoted 3/10½d. for the last four days, but the rate has been more a Bank's buying rate than a selling rate and the market has ruled weak. Today with the rate down to 3/9½d. 1d. lower last week's closing quotation, our market closes steady. Exports have been dull, with the exception of a little silk for America. Stocks of silver still increase.

NEW WILSON HOME COSTS $150,000

President To Make The Fairbanks House, Washington, His Permanent Residence

Washington, Dec. 18.—Announcement was made today that President Wilson had purchased the residence of Henry P. Fairbanks, 2,340 S. Street, Northwest, where he and Mrs. Wilson will make their permanent home. The purchase price is understood to have been $150,000.

R. Wilmer Bolling, brother of Mrs. Wilson, arranged the purchase through Arthur Browne of the real estate firm of Randall H. Hagner & Co. The President and Mrs. Wilson will receive possession on February 15, and the house will be ready for them to move into when they leave the White House on March 4.

The Fairbanks house was built about four years ago, and like many of the residences in the neighborhood is of Colonial design. S. Street, at the place where the house is situated, is just north of Massachusetts Avenue, a fashionable residence street, and both of these thoroughfares come together a short distance beyond the new Wilson home. The neighborhood has been developed as a residence section in recent years and many handsome dwellings have been erected.

The residence which President Wilson will occupy is of Colonial brick and Indiana limestone. It stands well away from the street on a level with the grounds, which cover nearly half of the block. The Colonial feature is preserved throughout in the large rooms and spacious entrance hall. A lawn 20 feet deep and 70 feet wide is in front of the house, while in the rear is a formal garden extending back to Decatur Street. Box hedges and flagstone paths are found in the garden, which is surrounded by a stone balustrade.

On the first floor a large entrance hall is flanked by dressing or retiring rooms. A broad Colonial stairway leads to the second floor, on which is the library, a drawing room and the dining room, together with a sun parlor overlooking the city southward toward the Potomac River. On the third floor are six large bedrooms and four baths. Quarters for servants and a laundry are on the fourth floor.

Near the President's new home on Massachusetts Avenue and S. Street are the residence of Mme. Christian Hauge, widow of a Norwegian Minister to Washington; Senator Porter, J. McCumber of North Dakota, Dr. Adolph C. Miller of the Federal Reserve Board, Louis Arthur Coolidge, Treasurer of the United Shoe Machinery Company, the house being now occupied by Dr. Paul S. Reinsch, former Minister to China; Captain Ridley McLean of the navy, W. D. Lattner and Roland Lindsay of the British Embassy.

Sheridan Circle, with many handsome residences, is a little more than a block away. The President's new home is about a hundred yards from the point where President Roosevelt usually started on his afternoon horseback rides.

'The Sentry Fired First'

THE shot in the back that felled Lieut. Langdon, of the U.S.S. Albany, at Vladivostok, continues to reverberate. Replying to an interpellation in the Japanese Diet, Baron Tanaka, the Minister of War, declared that the investigation made it appear probable that the sentry had fired first.

The early Japanese reports, it will be recalled, (and they were circulated all over the world) attempted to create the impression that the American had been first to fire. The position sought to be established by the Japanese was that Lieut. Langdon had discharged one shot and then had taken to his heels in flight.

But this version would not hold water. The evidence was that Lieut. Langdon in passing the sentry, (and he was in full uniform and using an electric torch to guide him on his way back to his ship) was challenged as to his nationality and responded that he was an American. He then passed on. The fatal shot followed. He turned on his assailant, fired two shots, walked back to his ship, made a report of the occurence and died.

But what was the man who had shot him in the back doing, meanwhile? It is evident that upon being shot, Lieut. Langdon, although fatally hit, drew his automatic, faced around and drove his attacker to flight. The sentry had fired upon him while his back was turned, but upon the Lieutenant returning the fire, the sentry fled. That would seem to be the truth of the matter. For the sentry, so far as we know discharged only the one shot.

When Lieutenant Langdon, although fatally wounded, stood his ground and opened fire, the sentry either had to stand up to him and exchange shots or seek cover. So far as we know the sentry fired but the one shot. It is further evident, from his dying condition, that Lieut. Langdon was not able to give chase to his assailant. And he only fired the two shots. We may rest assured therefore that the sentry was no longer in sight. Lieut. Langdon was barely able to get back to his ship, where, after saluting the officer of the deck he collapsed.

So died a brave man.

WE'VE ALL ONE-SIDED

Experiments were recently carried out to see whether persons blindfolded could walk along a straight chalk line. There were fifty people of different ages and of both sexes present who, to the amusement of spectators, walked without exception in a perfect circle. The adults completed the largest circles, which varied from twenty to one hundred paces in diameter.

The real reason for this phenomenon is believed to be that, as both sides of the body are not similarly developed, the action of the one side is more forceful than that of the other.

For instance, a football player whose right foot was abnormally developed made a much longer stride with that limb when blindfolded, and completed a very small circle. On endeavoring to correct his error he laid too much stress on his left leg and more than negatived the effect, thus making a circle in the opposite direction.

Most gymnasts and physical instructors agree that with most right-handed people their left legs become stronger than their right. For this reason left-handed men rise from the right leg when jumping, because it is stronger and likely to lift them higher.

In order to walk straight when the eyes are covered, it is as well to obtain some guidance until experienced, otherwise each time you are corrected you will begin a circle the other way.

By this means you can discover exactly which limbs are more developed and approximately to what extent this is so.

CHEW—AND BE CONFIDENT

The person who becomes abashed and nervous when in the presence of somebody whom he desires to impress, should chew whilst he is going through the dreaded interview. So, if you happen to be timid, be sure to lay in a store of chewing-gum or some other "silent" kind of chewing material before you interview a prospective employer or a possible father-in-law.

The scientific explanation is rather interesting. Nervousness tends to dry up the saliva of the mouth, and this dryness reacts to some extent on the brain and heart. Now, the mere act of chewing serves to restore the natural flow and volume of the saliva, with the result that confidence is renewed and the chewer feels fit for any kind of verbal ordeal.

WHISKEY TRAVELS

Only a very small proportion of the spirits which leave our ports in ships is actually intended for foreign destinations.

As a matter of fact many distillery firms make their produce exceedingly more mellow by despatching cargoes of it on a sea trip. The exact reason why this should improve such spirits as whisky and brandy is not yet fully ascertained, but it is mainly attributed to the effects of sea air and the regular shaking received from the constant rolling of the vessel.

Among distillers there is a maxim that a week afloat is as good as a year in cellar from the standpoint of age. And with age comes a more agreeable flavor.

Travellers abroad are always commenting on the infinitely better quality of British whiskey and brandy obtainable in other continents. This has been so far ages—naturally, because of the stretch of sea across which it has voyaged.

Another point of the sea voyage is this: In their original state these spirits are nearly colorless, but they derive a reddish hue from the wood of the barrels into which they are drawn by constantly coming in contact with the sides, which are charred to facilitate the coloring.

The deeper the color the more saleable it becomes, for the liquid appears so much stronger in quality, though, of course, this is not really so.

The El Dorado Of A Dream

A Glimpse Of The 'Vanderlip' Country

BY ORRIN KEITH
(Japan Advertiser)

Assume that Mr. Vanderlip did secure the lease of Kamchatka that press reports have described; assume that Lenin did make it; that he had a right to make it; that he will be able to appease Japan; that Japan will be appeased; that there are those in America who will put money into the development of the territory and that they are permitted to do so; what of the country itself?

Mr. Vanderlip says there will be "cargo enough to be carried to America to keep the idle fleet of the Shipping Board busy for the next 40 years;" (Japan should welcome this respite from shipping competition.) "The fisheries are twice as great as the Alaskan salmon industry" (sic); "There is enough oil to meet the entire demand of Canada;" and there is "enough grain to supply all Siberia." There is a ring of the California real state estate agent's eloquence in all this. But what of the country itself?

Little detailed information exists but the facts that are known throw a flood of light on the reasons why a Siberia El Dorado should have remained so long unknown and unexploited. George Kennan was with the party who explored the country for the telegraph line in 1864. A Russian named Shklovsky was exiled for years in the western part of the territory and wrote a description of that part of it after his return to civilisation in 1891. From these men we learn something of the reason why more is not known. We also learn something that should act as a very damp blanket upon the most enthusiastic of profiteers in his endless hunt for safe investment for his swollen millions.

MONARCH OF KAMCHATKA

This something is that the whole country is claimed by a monarch more powerful in his own realm than the Tsar of Russia or His Imperial Majesty of Japan. Ten months of the year the Ice King is undisputed master of the land. Then neither the Red Guards of capitalless Russia nor the trained armies and the money of Japan—not even the imagination of Southern California capitalists—could make substantial headway against the silent white forces of the North.

In southern Kamchatka the summers are described as "chilly" and the winters as "relatively warm." In figurs this means that the average temperature in Petropavlovsk is 58 in July and in January it is comparatively mild with an average of 17. The mean temperature in this region is 26. As we go farther north, however, it becomes rapidly cooler and before we have left the peninsula we find a mean temperature for the year of four degrees. This is still "relatively warm" for there are only a "few places" where the mercury goes down to—40. The main part of the territory is really cold. At Verkhoyansk, the first sizable town west of the 160th meridian, the average temperature from December to February is—53.1! The rivers are not free from ice until the end of June and they freeze again early in September. Rain, snow and fog are abundant.

THE FROZEN EARTH

In spite of this inclemency, we are assured that Kamchatka in the short summer is a beautiful place. There is no spring and summer rushes in upon the heels of retreating winter, trying to atone for tardiness by exuberance. The hills and valleys burst into green. Myriads of wild-flowers flash through the mists and the showers. But their beauty is short-lived. Summer's retreat is as precipitate as her arrival and by September winter again has the whole country firmly in its grip.

The summer is not sufficiently long to favor the growth of timber-bearing trees. There is some wooden country in the mountains of the South, but the tundra, or mossy plains, of the North are practically bare. Such trees as there are have no lumber value. The ground never thaws more than ten inches below the surface in summer. Below that it is perpetually frozen for 600 or 700 feet. The trees are therefore unable to send their roots down to any depth and are uprooted by the fierce winds of winter.

Of agriculture there is even less. Some few vegetables are raised by the inhabitants in southern Kamchatka, but cereals are impracticable even there. It is not clear just where Mr. Vanderlip is going to raise the grain with which he proposes to "supply all Siberia."

MYSTERIOUS PROSPECTORS

The one definite statement we find in regard to changed conditions in this end of Siberia is in Mr. Chicherin's message to Agent Martens. The Soviet Minister says: "Vast oil strata and bituminous coal deposits have been discovered in this country." We find ourselves regretting that there was not more detail in this connection. Has the Soviet Government been carrying on development work in this far off corner of the ancient realm of the Tsar, which for the last few years has been only very tentatively under its control, or has some daring group of capitalists, taking advantage of the world's interest in other matters slipped into this Bolshevik country and put down wells and shafts, investing thousands in the hope that the Communists would sufficiently appreciate their efforts to give them a rich concession if they were successful in discovering mineral in paying quantities? Until a bit more is known of these great "discoveries" made at a time when no explorations were being made, scepticism as to their value is excusable.

Minerals there undoubtedly are in the territory. Coal, copper, mercury, iron, mica, sulphur, graphite and amber are known to be present. Gold too has been found. All this, however, has been known for years and yet no one has heretofore thought it to his profit to attempt to develop these minerals commercially. It remained for an engineer from Hollywood, the heart of the moving-picture world, and a Bolshevik Foreign Minister to discover these "discoveries."

In spite of the severity of its climate, North-eastern Siberia supports a considerable variety of animal life. The pusuit of the fur-bearing animals shares with fishing the entire economic effort at the present time. Sable, fox, lynx and squirrel are the most sought after of Kamchatka's fauna, though the bear also adds his quota to the fur product. Deer, big-horned elk, hares and fieldmice furnish natives with clothing and food.

A PLAGUE OF MOSQUITOES

The marshes in summer swarm with wild-fowl. But the member of the animal kingdom most talked-of by returned visitors to Siberia, is the mosquito. How terrible is this scourge may be guessed from the following statement of Mr. Shklovsky.

"This marsh pest gave us no rest during the whole of our journey. The white cruppers of our horses were black with the insects which settled on them and above us the mosquitoes hung like a black cloud. At first our horses plunged, reared and rolled on the ground, trying to get rid of the tortures, but, finding all attempts useless, they resigned themselves to fate. The drooping heads and mournful eyes of the poor animals expressed the depths of despair. Nets, gloves and thick coats formed only a temporary protection from the mosquitoes. At each halting-place we made a huge smoke-fire, near which our horses remained all the time; but even this did not help much, for if for one moment the wind swayed the column of thick white smoke, whose acrid fumes choked us and burnt our throats, instantly the mosquitoes settled upon us."

It is hardly to be expected that such a country should have a large and thriving population. The total is estimated to be above 40,000, a respectable number, but all but a few hundred of these are natives who, are among the most wretched and backward of the peoples of the earth. The better element centers at Petropaviovsk, the city of Peter and Paul a small fur center with about a thousand inhabitants. This town is 1,500 miles from Vladivostok by steamer. The only town of any size in the leased territory itself is Anadyrsk which boasts between 200 and 300 people. It is situated far to the north where Asia approaches America, and its inhabitants spend most of their lives buried, houses and all, beneath the snow.

INHABITED BY SAVAGES

The rest of the country is sparsely populated by the native tribes, the Chooktchi, and the Koriaks. The former and many of the latter live in small settlements on the banks of the river. Their condition is almost unbelievably wretched. They live in filthy smoke-filled huts which half-protect them from the cold during all but the short summer months of the year. Cleanliness is not one of their virtues. Bathing is unknown, and even face washing is only indulged in to celebrate a wedding. This ceremony is confined largely to the "celebration." The price of a girl is a block of tea and a cup of vodka—a little less than the price of a reindeer.

Clothing is of skins, tools of wood, bone and stone. For food these people depend entirely upon the catch of fish. This seldom lasts from one year until the rivers melt the next summer. Meantime the people fight starvation with old shoes, leggings and such food as is usually thrown to the dogs, such as fishbones, entrails and half-decayed fish. This latter is the principal food because the natives have not sufficient salt to properly preserve the catch and they do not understand smoking it. Nourished on this vile stuff, their bodies have little resistance to offer to disease, and smallpox and spyhilis are rife among them.

The wandering Koriaks are somewhat better off. They are the greatest reindeer barons on earth. Each little group or clan owns a herd of as many as 500 or 600 deer. With their herds the wander over the tundra of the north, a country of which Kennan says: "It did not seem possible that human beings could live or would care to live, on this desolate plain of moss, 4,000 feet above the sea, enveloped half the time in drifting clouds, and swept by frequent storms of rain and snow."

Not only must the Koriake live in such a country, but they must constantly move about in it so that their deer may find new pastures. The moss is short and a few days sees it disappear. The deer must have food, and as the Koriaks in turn depend upon them for their meat, both are kept constantly on the move. In addition to deer meat, they make a bread which they call "manyalla," which is compounded of clotted blood, tallow, and half-digested moss from the stomach of a deer. This is supposed to be especially nourishing.

NO OLD AGE PENSIONS

The native tribes are hospitable, offering the stranger anything they have, including their wives. Old people, by a custom rooted in necessity, are put to death. This seeming cruelty is anticipated by the elderly and is celebrated with great ceremony.

In addition to the diseases already mentioned, those who come to these regions from milder climates seem to be afflicted with another malady caused by the intense and unrelenting cold. The sufferers lose all reason but imitate everything that comes to eye or ear. They will repeat long quotations from a foreign tongue and every movement they see they must follow perforce. The native children plague the victims by dancing, standing on their heads, and performing other antics. All of these the sufferer imitates until sheer exhaustion brings unconsciousness.

Small wonder that Shklovsky, as he leaves Siberia to return to a more favored land, sighs in farewell: "Miserable country, miserable nature, miserable people!"

From this melancholy view of a man who has actually seen the country we can turn with relief to the enthusiasm of Engineer Vanderlip who, from all that appears, paints his pictures entirely from his imagination. And yet it is a bit difficult to follow him in his enthusiasm. Huge cargoes, oil for Canada, grain for Siberia, all need not only immense capital investments under peculiarly uninviting circumstances, but they imply a great labor supply the cost of which would exhaust the riches of Golconda. Altogether, in the absence of something far more definite and tangible than has yet come to light in regard to this transaction, it is impossible to appreciate its value from an economic standpoint.

Far East News Notes

LESS JAPANESE NOW ENTER PHILIPPINES

Japanese immigration into the Philippines dropped 58 percent in 1919 according to the official figures of the Insular Government just issued for that year, says a despatch from Manila. The passenger movement for the year shows an increase over that of the preceding year. A total of 23,448 persons arrived in and 21,796 persons departed from the Philippine Islands. These figures do not include enlisted men and others attached to the military or naval forces of the United States.

Of the total arrivals 3,324 were citizens of the United States and 3,598 citizens of the Philippine Islands returning from abroad. Of the aliens arriving the Chinese head the list, the number being 12,936, of whom 7,931 were immigrants and 4,999 non-immigrants, as compared with 10,376 during the preceding year, of whom 4,999 were immigrant aliens and 5,377 returning residents and transients.

58 PERCENT DECREASE

Japanese to the number of 1,643 landed in the Philippines, of whom 1,274 were immigrants and 369 returning residents and transients, as compared with 3,965 in 1918, of whom 3,559 were immigrant aliens and 406 returning residents. The decrease in the number of Japanese coming to the Philippines was 58 percent. Peoples of other nationalities also arrived in small numbers. Of the total arrivals 19,069 were males and 4,379 females. The total arrivals also include tourists, of whom no statistical data have been compiled.

Of the total departing people 3,023 were citizens of the United States and 6,765 citizens of the Philippine Islands visiting other countries. Of the aliens departing, 8,607 were Chinese, of whom 112 were emigrants, 7,786 residents of the Philippine Islands and 709 were transients, as compared with 7,185 in 1918, of whom 10 were emigrants and 7,175 non-emigrants.

276 ALIENS DEBARRED

Japanese to the number of 1,577 departed, of whom 844 were emigrants and 733 non-emigrants. Other nationalities also departed in small numbers. Of those who left the Islands during the year 18,529 were males and 3,266 females.

A total of 276 aliens was debarred from admission into the country during the year, while 126 aliens were deported under the various provisions of the Immigration and Opium laws.

STEAMER CARDIGANSHIRE NOW FLIES AMERICAN FLAG

The steamship formerly owned by the Figueras Steamship Company, registered at Hongkong under the British flag and known as the Cardiganshire, has been sold to a Manila firm and will fly the American flag, according to a report which has reached Hongkong from Manila. The ship, one of the biggest under Hongkong registry, passed through Shanghai and Japanese ports during the early winter en route from Vladivostok to Manila.

The steamer will continue to have as agents Thoresen and Co. of Hongkong. It has been rechristened the Paco Figueras and will carry Spanish officers and a Philippine crew.

JAPANESE CROWN PRINCE TO PREPARE FOR CROWN

As soon as he has completed his high school course, which will be in March, the Crown Prince of Japan will begin a course of study which will prepare him to bear the duties of Emperor.

Prince Kanin has been decided upon as personal assistant to the Crown Prince in his new studies and Admiral Togo, General Hasegawa, Viscount Hatano and Baron Yamakawa have been selected as advisers.

KOBE SENDS HALF OF IMMIGRANTS TO U. S.

Nearly half of the immigrants sailing from Kobe during 1920 went to the United States or her insular possessions, according to information carried by the papers of that city.

Of a total of 4,868 Japanese who left that port, the greater number of them being immigrants, 2,323 sailed for ports under the American flag, 1,947 going to America proper, 1,031 to Hawaii and 95 to the Philippines.

Brazil followed the United States in popularity, receiving 481, while 472 went to Peru. Canada came fourth with 383. Others were: Straits Settlement, 99; Australia, 92; Dutch East Indies, 95; Hongkong, 22, and Argentina, 29.

KOBE TO CELEBRATE PORT'S ANNIVERSARY

Kobe will celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of its opening to foreign trade with an elaborate program for two days early in March. The function will be in connection with the thirtieth municipal anniversary and also the recent completion of the city's large reservoir in the suburb of the city. The celebration for these affairs was postponed because of the Great War.

During the festival the city will be beautifully decorated with the colored lanterns and flags and fireworks will be used constantly in the leading parks. A municipal banquet to be held at Minatogawa Park with several thousand citizens as guests will be presided over by Mayor Sakurai.

A special train with those guests invited by the city will visit Chigari, several miles from the city, where the municipality has just completed its reservoir at a cost of about Y.12,000,000.

CANADIAN ACADEMY AT KOBE TO BUILD DORMITORY

With 96 students entrolled the new term of the Canadian Academy in Kobe was opened last week. Thirty-three of them are living in the school's two dormitories and, owing to growing requirements for dormitory accommodation, the board of directors has just purchased ground adjacent to the east of the school and plans were drawn for a new domitory capable of accommodating 25 students and three teachers, to be completed by the next September.

Among the new students are: Master Peter, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Miller of Tovohashi and Master Irving, son of Dr. and Mrs. Dane I. Grover in Kyoto.

KOBE GOVERNMENT WILL BE DIVIDED

With the view that a single municipal office is inadequate to facilitate municipal affairs in a city which has a population of more than 600,000, an investigation is now being made by a committee recently appointed by the Kobe City Office with the object of dividing the city into three administrative sections. As a result of the recent national census, Kobe is now the third largest city in Japan, those surpassing it being Tokio and Osaka.

It is pointed out by the committee that there are 15 wards in Tokio and four in Osaka, and they favor a plan of dividing the city into three parts, the east, the central and the west. This demarcation is generally thought advisable for the city lies along the narrow land between the shore and the mountains. As soon as the plan is matured the new ward offices will be opened in Kumochi in the east and Hayashida west. The central office will be temporarily located in the main city office.

KOBE Y.M.C.A. NEEDS Y. 70,000 FOR BUILDING

Within less than a year, the Kobe Young Men's Christian Association will move into its new building slightly east of its former home. The association's main building has been torn down in order to permit the second municipal tramway expansion there.

Exclusive of the old materials which are valued at Y.110,000, the new building is to cost Y.190,000 and an additional sum of Y.50,000 is needed for the plumbing and electric and gas fittings. As the land was purchased at a cost of Y.180,000, the association's whole property is valued at about Y.530,000. Deducting the funds the association has already received and those to be received from the municipality, the association is short Y.70,000, which is to be raised by subscriptions. This was made known at the meeting of the association held at the Kobe Congregational Church. A budget of Y.42,600 for this year was passed, followed by the election of the new committee.

INFLUENZA WIDESPREAD IN JAPANESE CITIES

An epidemic of influenza of a rather mild form is prevalent in the army barracks in Tokio, in several schools and is being reported in despatches from throughout the country. The disease is not so virulent as it was last year, resulting in fewer deaths, but the number of cases is becoming large. The Hochi has quoted an army medical official as follows:

"An outbreak of influenza has been reported in both the Azabu and Akasaka regiments in Tokio cases in those regiments averaging five daily, with every sign of further spreading. Up to the end of last year there was not a single patient, but since then there have been many, although fortunately none of a serious nature."

The worst case in a Tokio school is that of the Kyusho Gakusha School in Koishikawa, where it is reported that more than half of the total number of students are patients. The epidemic at the aviation corps at Yokohama seems to be more virulent than at most places from which reports have come. Of 45 men in the hospital last week 10 were dangerously ill.
